

Grace's Cruises – Insider Tip: Staying Connected While Traveling Abroad

One of the most common questions I get is:

“How do I stay connected without paying huge roaming charges?”

For the past few years, I've been using eSIMs whenever I travel out of country — and the savings are incredible. Instead of paying expensive daily roaming fees, I simply download an eSIM onto my phone before departure.

Companies like Airalo offer data packages for virtually every country, as well as regional bundles (for example, Caribbean Islands, all of Europe, all of Asia etc).

✅ Why I love it:

- Quick and easy to install through an app (no need to swap SIM cards).
- Affordable — just a fraction of what local carriers charge for roaming.
- Reliable for maps, navigation, messaging, and social media.
- Flexible bundles for different parts of the world.

I still use cruise ship Wi-Fi when onboard and take advantage of free Wi-Fi at cafés or terminals when it's convenient, but eSIMs give me peace of mind when exploring on my own.

📱 How to get started:

Download the Airalo app from the App Store or Google Play, choose your destination, and activate your data plan before you travel.

💰 Bonus savings:

Use my referral code GRACE5704 to save US $3.00 or CA $4.50 off your first purchase.

This simple tip has saved me hundreds of dollars — and kept me connected wherever my travels take me!
